

WOULD GO IT ALONE

Hepburn Has a Solution for the Financial Problem.

BUILD UP HOME INDUSTRIES

Advocate Laws to Secure Balance of Trade and Would Buy Less From Foreign Countries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The senate bill was passed admitting free of duty all articles intended for exhibition at the California mid-winter international exposition.

Mr. Johnson asked unanimous consent for the introduction of his bill permitting the exchange of United States bonds for treasury notes. There was no objection and the bill was referred to the committee on banking and currency.

Mr. Bricker addressed the house in favor of the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act.

Mr. Mallory attributed to the tariff the greater share of the present depression, but the demagogues of silver would still further separate the wealthy classes from the working classes.

Mr. Hopkins read some portions of the president's message and commented upon it. The republicans had come here to meet their democratic colleagues not as partisans but as patriots. He then proceeded to argue against the silver amendments to the Wilson bill and in support of the repeal amendment.

Mr. Lane contended that a silver dollar was the equal of the gold dollar. He was here for free coinage and might as well forget him if he forgot his duty.

Mr. Newlands recited the demands of his region when he vigorously advocated the free coinage of silver.

There were, he said, two aspects of this question—the industrial and financial. America was the greatest silver producing country of the world. England was the greatest gold accumulating nation, and was becoming the great gold producing nation. Our legislation should be favorable to England's accumulation of gold, and English production of gold to the detriment of a great American industry.

Paroled the Wilson Bill

Mr. Byrum in advocating the Wilson bill said that unquestionably the vast majority of people believed that the Sherman law was responsible for the evils described by the president. The United States, he said, could not afford the silver at any rate with the mint of all the other civilized nations closed against it. This country could decide on no ratio that would give a fixed value to silver. If the United States should adopt a free coinage act there would be no silver in the country one year more silver than the mint could coin in ten years. The free coinage of silver at this time would be the severest blow that could be struck at that metal. Free coinage here meant silver monometallism, and as one who was a localist, he would not argue in favor of the silver monometallism, but he was the advocate of the silver amendment.

Mr. Hepburn ridiculed the idea that partisanship could be eliminated from this debate and criticized Mr. Byrum as a man who had defied the constitution in the most insulting terms for asking that cant and subterfuge should be eliminated from this discussion. He opposed the repeal of the Sherman law and he protested against the shifting process of legislation by which the democratic party attempted to place the responsibility of the repeal upon republican shoulders.

Sherman Act Beneficial

He believed that the Sherman act in its operation was beneficial at all times, and it was not harmful today. The true way to solve the financial question was to control by law and judicious legislation the balance of trade to be in our favor. Let us buy less abroad; let us patronize less the labor forces of other lands and more of our own. Let us, by judicious measures, increase the marine; let us secure by proper methods of subsidy or bounty the production of all the sugar we need. They were necessary, but they were not all. All bankers were monometallists and they recognized President Cleveland as one.

The republican party was asked to admit that all the evils that afflict the country came from the Sherman law. For one he would not do so. [Applause.]

Mr. Jones opposed the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause and favored free coinage.

The house then at 5 o'clock took a recess until 8 o'clock, but only after an agreement that during the remainder of the week the daily hour of meeting should be 10 o'clock.

Evening Debate

After the recess Mr. Ellis spoke in favor of free coinage and severely criticized the position taken by his colleague, Mr. McCready upon the question. The Sherman law, poor though it was, was the best that the country had between silver monometallism and monometallism.

Mr. McKnight advocated the free coinage of silver. No nation, even as great a nation as this, could be independent of the world.

Mr. Belmont favored immediate repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act, the necessity for which is so clearly written on the face of public distress.

Mr. Arnold denied that there was any emergency in the country to justify the demonstration of silver which would follow the repeal of the Sherman law. The farmers and workmen of this country had no reason to envy the condition of the farmers and workmen of the nations which had discarded silver.

Mr. Williams, through deprecating the necessity of having to speak in empty phrases, spoke in favor of the free coinage of silver.

At the conclusion of Mr. Williams' speech the house at 11:10 adjourned.

PURCHASE OF BULLION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Mr. Allen gave notice of an amendment which would offer to the bill reported by Mr. Voorhees discontinuing the purchase of silver bullion. It proposed to add to the existing clause of that bill a provision that hereafter standard silver shall be coined at the several mints of the United States into dollars, halves and quarters and dimes at the present rate of 16 to 1 under the same conditions as to mintage of other change on

GEARY ACT IN CHINA

Viceroy Dictates a Little to Cleveland of China's Position.

CELESTIALS WILL RETALIATE

Should the Act Be Enforced Americans Will Be Expelled From the Empire and Retaliation Closed.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—China's ultimatum with reference to the Chinese exclusion act, as the Geary law is called, has reached the United States. At least information to that effect has been received by Mr. F. H. Brewster in this city. The ultimatum of China, as he stated it, is that the celestial empire will resent the action of congress. If congress decides to enforce the Geary law China will at once retaliate by expelling all Americans from the empire. Mr. Brewster declined to give his source of information further than to say that he has friends in China with whom he is in constant communication and through whom he received the information he was about to impart.

Copy of the Original.

"The United States consul at Tien Tsin," he said, "is at present William Bowman, who left China for this country before the letters were written which contain my information on the subject. He must, therefore, be in this country now, and although I have not read anything about it in the papers as yet, he carries with him a paper containing the ultimatum of China in the matter of the Geary law. The paper is not in Chinese, for it is unsigned, but it is dictated by the viceroy of China in Mr. Bowman's presence to Mr. Tenney, who is acting in the consul's stead during the latter's absence in this country. The viceroy, on learning that Mr. Bowman was coming to the United States, sent for him and on his arrival gave him this message, which he desired him to deliver to President Cleveland direct. It was reduced to writing so that there need not be the slightest possibility of a mistake. Mr. Tenney, who wrote it, is an Oberlin man, a brother of the Rev. Dr. H. M. Tenney, of Oberlin, a former pastor of the First Congregational church in this city. I can give you the message as I have it, and without being quite sure, I think it is a copy of the original. At any rate it is the exact substance of the message. It is as follows:

Viceroy's Letter in Full.

"Report of an interview between the viceroy, Li Hung Chang, and United States Consul Bowman, held June 22, 1893. The viceroy, Li Hung Chang, requested Consul Bowman on his return to the United States to call upon President Cleveland and state to him:

"First, that Viceroy Li appreciates the good intentions of the president and secretary of state and thanks them for their efforts to secure kind and just treatment for the Chinese residing in the United States.

"Second, that Viceroy Li feels keenly the unfriendly nature and injustice of the Geary law.

"Third, that China will take no action thereon until the next session of the United States congress, in the hope that the Geary law will be modified or repealed.

"Fourth, that if the next congress decides to enforce the law, China will at once retaliate; friendly relations between the two countries will be broken off and laws will be enacted looking toward the expulsion of all Americans from China.

"Fifth, that meantime, instructions have been issued to all China officials to take special care to protect all American citizens living in China from violence."

SWITCHMEN STRUCK

Freight on the Evansville & Terra Haute is Tied Up.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 22.—The Evansville & Terra Haute road liquidated their monthly pay roll today with checks, announcing in a circular to their employees that this was made necessary from inability to get funds from New York. The men found the checks non-negotiable at the banks and refused to cash them. All freight is at a standstill in the yards. A meeting of the trainmen is being held tonight and a general strike may go into effect tomorrow. The engineers and firemen are also understood to be up and ready for the outbreak, general trouble tomorrow among all classes of employees is serious.

OAKLAND, Ill., Aug. 22.—Meyers, the man who assaulted Mrs. Will and his own niece, is still hidden in the recesses of Bushy Fork swamp, with 2,000 armed farmers surrounding his hiding place. Early this morning a posse of 100 men surrounded the swamp, and the outlaws, carrying a basket of provisions for his outlawed husband. On her return she reported that her husband was well armed and hidden in a dense swamp. He swears he will never be captured alive. Although only 1,000 men surround the swamp, there is no leader courageous enough to lead an attack and it is probable the mob will attempt to starve Meyers into submission.

FRUIT MEN ARE HOT.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 22.—The action of the world's fair board in Chicago last week in trying to close the Michigan fruit exhibit unless a letter showing more was made does not surprise anybody here because the fact had long been realized that Michigan's display is a disgrace to the state. In the report of the meeting of the board, however, occurs statements which are misleading. The board attributes the scanty display to the lack of public spirit and enterprise on the part of the fruit men. This is unjust and untrue. The Michigan fruit exhibit, which ought to have been one of the finest at the fair, is a fiasco, and will remain so to the end, and all through the blurring action of the board in trying to manage the whole thing itself.

Coast Line of Lake Huron

PORTAGE, Mich., Aug. 22.—Prof. George H. Stone, formerly connected with the Pontiac schools, is at present engaged in tracing the old coast line of Lake Huron. He has found that the line enters Oakland county just south of Farmington, then passes in a northerly direction through the townships of Farmington and Southland, crossing into Troy just below Birmingham and passing through Troy into Avon township, thence into Macomb county within a mile of the village of Rochester. This, Mr. Stone claims, goes to show that the lake coast has receded thirty miles, and that Lakes St. Clair and Erie, and the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, as well as the regions around for a number of miles, at one time formed a vast lake.

Col. J. H. Fenton delivered the presentation speech, during which the flag was run to the peak, and cannon from Fort Mackinac thundered a salute. General Manager Carter responded to the address on behalf of the company, followed by James K. Hayes of the Grand hotel. The boat then went on her way.

WHITE WOMAN MURDERED ON THE STREET BY A NEGRO

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon a fashionably dressed white woman and a colored man met and engaged in a brief conversation on Wylie avenue. The woman quietly started on her way. The man stood irresolute for a moment, then walked rapidly up behind the woman, pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired two bullets into her head. The man then turned the pistol to his own head and fired. He fell dead in his tracks. The woman was identified as Ella Lawton and the man as Edward Freeman. The body of the latter was removed to the morgue. The woman was taken to the Homeopathic hospital and died at 4 o'clock. The shooting is supposed to be the result of jealousy and revenge. Last Saturday Edward Freeman was charged at the instance of Miss Lawton, who charged him with throwing stones at her house. Freeman convinced the alderman who tried the case of his intimacy with the woman, covering a period of four years, and was discharged. To-day was the first time the two had seen each other since that time. Freeman was 25 years of age and his victim about 23.

KANSAS STRIKE WAR

Bloody Battle in Prospect at Santa Fe Mines.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 22.—Telegrams received here this morning show that the threats made by President Walters, of the Coal Miners' Union, to prevent miners going to work at Frontenac, in the Archdeacon and Santa Fe Railroad Company's mines, were not idle. He declared that he would bring 2,000 men to Frontenac to drive all persons from the mines until the union had sanctioned the contract. The first company of the 2,000, fifty in number, arrived at Frontenac last night and went into camp near the mines. At 3 o'clock 300 more of Walters' men arrived from West City and Pittsburg. The manager of the mine called on the sheriff of Crawford county, who deputized as many merchants and professional men as he could find before daylight this morning and started for the scene of the threatened battle. Guns were telegraphed for to all the neighboring towns by Manager Walters, who is in charge of the Santa Fe's mines. The sheriff is handicapped in getting men sufficient to cope with Walters' crowd, and if the threatened clash should come he will be compelled to ask the governor for the militia.

Thirty men went to work in the mines at 6 o'clock this morning and 200 others were ready to go into the pits, but were prevented by Walters and his mob. The company will resist any attempt on the part of the strikers to more upon the company's property, and unless Walters backs down from his present warlike attitude bloodshed will certainly result.

GILROY WAS ANGRY

Gompers and the Unemployed Called on the Mayor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A committee led by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, called on Mayor Gilroy today. Gompers addressed the mayor: "I want to make it plain to you that the affairs of this city are in a state of anarchy. The matter demands the serious consideration of the city, state and national authorities. The suffering workmen are not chimerical or fanatical. It is their firm belief that it is within the power of the city to get the next sanitary convention and the new city hall, the speedway, schools, new streets and docks. These men are loyal, but I believe they should have work. That will be the safest and best."

The mayor flushed at this and asked Gompers sternly, "What do you mean by that remark? I do not like it."

Gompers said that he meant no threat. Then the mayor had his saying. "No one can be blind to the fact," said he, "that there is much to be done among the unemployed. I do not know how 90 per cent are out of work in any trade, but I am willing to do all I can to help. At the next meeting of the board of estimate we shall give your ideas consideration."

Eventually the police charged with drawn swords. The roughs held their ground until many had been cut and several arrested. They then retreated slowly, still fighting. The crowd that gathered as soon as news of the conflict got abroad occupied the Favoriten quarter, well into the night. Several fights and small riots had been reported at 10 o'clock, and the police were still charging the crowd.
